

A Message from the Gilstraps

Thank you for your continued trust in Gilstrap Exterminating to protect your property!

Our number one priority is the experience we create for you and our team. To continue to deliver the service standard you deserve, we have chosen to join forces with Northwest Exterminating. Northwest will service your property moving forward. We chose to partner with Northwest because of our shared core values and commitment to people-first cultures.

With Northwest, your service(s) will continue as usual. If we can support you in any way throughout this transition, reach out to our Customer Care team.
